WEDNESDAY.....JUNE 10, 1857.

THE great little National Council of the Know-Nothing party was sent to this city to make an impression on Kentucky this year. It met in Louisville, where it was thought the brethren would muster in mighty numbers to do homage to their great Sanhedrin. It was a most decided misjudgment. The brethren were present with speeches, but there was no crowd to hear. Several speakers were put up to draw an audience, but none came; and it is maliciously rumored that some of the tenants of almost empty benches fell down, and rendered sleepy applause to the most gigantic oratorical efforts. The brethren look sheepish about the whole affair, and think the Council ought to keep the doors shut; that there certainly was more need for secrecy than ever before. The editor of the Fremont party is not much better off; but he gives:

The Late National Know-Nothing Council. Where is the Party to Go?

The delegates representing the remaining states of the great late American party have had their National Council at Louisville, Ky., and adjourned. And, as the signal defeat of the Know-Nothing Plug Uglies at the Washington city municipal election the other day, it must be confessed that the circumstances and party reminiscences attending this national assemblage at Louisville were not of the most cheering description. Hence, it is not surprising that this Council exhibited scarcely a greater degree of warmth and enthusiasm than the remains of some unfortunate searching expedition for Sir John Franklin, who had been lost over the wreck of their ship among the icebergs of the Arctic circle.

At the very outset of the proceedings of this National Council (most probably the last of the Mohicans), Mr. Erastus Brooks, through the parliamentary device of a resolution offered by himself, secured the important position of chairman of the committee to revise the party platform. The committee accordingly set to work, and, after great labor, secured a new resolution.

10th Opposition to any union between Church and State; no interference with religious faith, or worship, and no tests oaths for office.

11th. Free and thorough investigation into all and all alleged abuses of public functions, and a strict economy in all public expenditures.

12. The maintenance and enforcement of all laws, constitutionally enacted, with said laws shall be strictly observed, and declared null and void by competent judicial authority.

13th. Therefore, to remedy existing evils, and prevent the disastrous consequences otherwise resulting therefrom, we would build up the American party on principles heretofore statuted.

14th. That each State Council shall have authority to amend their several constitutions, so to abolish the several degrees, and institute a pledge of honor, instead of other obligations for fellowship and admission into the party.

15th. A free and open discussion of all political principles embraced in our platform.

Persons applying for space or desiring further information address Mr. MCPHERSON, Louisville, Ky.

COL. HOLT—POSTPONEMENT.

The announcement has been made heretofore that Col. Thomas H. Holt, the Democratic and old-line Whig candidate for Congress in this district, would address his fellow-citizens of Louisville at Democratic Headquarters this evening. Owing to engagements elsewhere, it will be impossible for him to fulfil the appointment this evening, and the address will therefore be postponed until Wednesday evening next.

PUBLIC SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.—The exercises of examination of the pupils of the city schools were continued yesterday in the First Ward. These schools are under the superintendence of Maj. G. E. Roberts, who is assisted by Miss Anna Howard, Miss Amanda Beaman, Miss Carrie Boone, Miss Louis Vetter, Miss Lucy Williamson, Miss Suzy Daffy, Miss Helen Simpson, Miss Anna Bryan, Mr. West and others. So far as the review extended yesterday, in the secondary and primary departments, it was highly gratifying, evincing great care and labor on the part of teachers and application on the part of pupils. The First-ward school, as it is at present organized, is one of the best appointed and most flourishing institutions of learning in the city. A pleasant little episode in the exercises yesterday, was the duct, sung by Miss Sarah Bottomley and Master John Harris. The examination will be continued in the same school to-day.

At the close of the examination of the pupils in the First-ward City Schools yesterday, Maj. G. E. Roberts, the principal of the schools, was presented with a beautiful cane, mounted with silver, and Miss Louise Vetter, his first assistant, was presented with a very costly and splendid album. These admirable presents were from the pupils of the schools, and were tendered in a very graceful address by Master James Lloyd, and received in a like graceful manner. The exercises throughout were of a highly pleasing character, and the testimonials were a token of appreciation of the services of two of the most competent and efficient teachers in our public schools.

Taking a legal view of the subject, our friend Frank Hildebrand was up to his elbows in business yesterday morning in Police Court. He was so fortunate, however, as to be the plaintiff in each case. Firstly, he had Mary and Margaret Conner prosecuted for attempting to pass broken bank money upon him. They were partially heard, but their cases were finally continued until to-day. Secondly, Robert Godfrey was charged with inflicting a slight wound upon Mr. Hildebrand with a knife. Godfrey was discharged.

We would again remind our readers of the rich treat in store for them at Mozart Hall. The ladies have taken great pains to have all the delicacies of the season prepared for your entertainment, and we hope you will show your appreciation of their efforts to please by crowding the Hall and partaking liberally of the good things spread before you. Not least among the attractions will be the smiling and happy faces of the fair ones who will serve out to you from their well stored tables whatever your palate may desire.

MARRIAGE IN HIGH LIFE.—We are not authorized to make the announcement, (but do so for the benefit of the numerous admirers of each) that Signor Frederico Venus and Signorita Carmen Concha, both of the Keller Troupe, were married at the Cathedral, in this city, on Sunday last. This is the second party of the same troupe that has been married within the last month.—Frile having been married while the company was in St. Louis.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—Preparations are on foot in other cities for a patriotic observance of the forthcoming anniversary of American Independence. No movement, however, has been made in this city as yet for a general observance of the day as a national festival. The pupils of the various Sunday Schools are moving toward their picnics and exhibitions, but the spark of patriotism seems to have quite died out in the public heart.

THE EXAMINATIONS.—That interesting recurrence in the life of a pupil, the period of examination, is in full tide throughout the country. The fourth annual examination at the Louisville Female College, in Seventh street, near Broadway, is in progress at present. The commencement exercises will close on Thursday (to-morrow) evening, on which occasion six young ladies will be graduated.

THE Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, of New York, was in session in the city of New York last week. On Friday evening, quite a large audience assembled in Dr. Chapin's Church to listen to an address and other demonstrations in honor of the late Dr. Kane, who was a member of the fraternity. The address was delivered by J. A. Lewis, Jr., M. W. G. M.

HEAVY ROBBERY OF AN EXPRESS OFFICE.—A boy named Gype, belonging to the American Express Company, stole from the office of the Company, at Plymouth, Marshall County, Ind., a package containing $3,812. The boy was arrested near Crestline, O., and all the money but $5 recovered.

THE ladies of the East Baptist Church, of this city, contemplate holding a strawberry festival, Tuesday evening next, for the benefit of their church. In accordance with their taste and custom, they will doubtless render it a delightful entertainment.

THE only cases of drunkenness and disorderly conduct before the Police Court yesterday were those of Joseph and William Murphy. William was held to bail to be of good behavior three months, and Joseph was discharged.

Two Editors DROWNED.—J. W. McMaster, publisher of the Wauwatosa (Wisconsin) Herald, a paper recently started at Reed's Landing, on the Mississippi, were capsized in a sail-boat, week before last, and both drowned.

A party of young gentlemen from this city, who attended the railroad celebration at St. Louis on Friday last, continued their excursion to various points in Northern Illinois, and when last heard of were in Chicago.

James Rose, who was partially examined in Police Court on Monday for the murder of John Gallagher, at Algiers, La., some three weeks ago, was further examined yesterday upon that charge and dismissed.

At a meeting of the Democrats and Old-line Whigs of Shelby county, on Monday last, Messrs. Payne and Neal, two gentlemen of high standing and solid worth, were nominated for the lower branch of the Kentucky Legislature. We have the most cheering account from that portion of the Congressional district.

The St. Charles Restaurant, in Fifth street, is one of the most popular resorts in the city at present. Messrs. Kafer and Meyer, the proprietors, seem to possess a remarkable knowledge of the public taste, and graduate their arrangements to the highest standard.

PERSONAL.

—Gen. William Walker held a levee yesterday at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Lawrence Richardson, in this city. A large number of our most distinguished citizens waited upon him, and express much satisfaction and pleasure with the interview. The General was attended during these interviews by his father and several members of his staff. Gen. Walker and staff visited a popular daguerrean saloon during the afternoon, upon invitation, where they left several fine counterfeit presentations of four distinguished filibusters. They also attended the performance at the Louisville Theater, in the evening, by special invitation from Mauger Melins, who enjoyed Gen. Walker's friendship in California. The General and his staff depart to-day for Washington, and will take passage on the Cincinnati mail-boat at 12 o'clock.

—The distinguished Col. Lockridge, who figured so conspicuously in the recent stirring events in Nicaragua, is but twenty-five years of age. A native of Mississippi, he possesses that manliness and winning grace peculiar to the officer; is quite the tall and handsome gentleman without, and appears to us "as mild a mannequin man as ever cut a throat or" broke heart.

—J. W. Knapp has resigned the office of agent of the United States Treasury in Washington, intending to remove to Wisconsin and engage in banking, real estate and law business.

—Col. S. I. M. Major, the distinguished editor of the Frankfort Yeoman, was at the Louisville Hotel yesterday, and will return to Frankfort to-day.

—James Hayden, of Berryville, Clarke County, Va., is very anxious to hear from his brother, Charles Hayden, late of Madison, Ind.—Col. H. F. Cheatham, of Tennessee, who distinguished himself in the Mexican war, has been appointed Consul to Aspinwall.

—Gov. Izard, of Nebraska Territory, arrived in St. Louis, Sunday last, from his frontier home.

—Col. W. W. Stapp, Secretary of the State Central Committee, is in the city at present.

Albert G. Richardson, Esq.

This gentleman has been an authorized agent for the Democrat in New York city for seven years past. We have had many transactions with him, and have always found him prompt, faithful, and exact to the last degree. His advertising favors are accompanied with specific instructions in regard to the manner of insertion—and the full requirements are exacted and insisted upon from publishers; but his term complied with, there is no difficulty in settlement; for he so fully understands the printing business, that he is ready, from his own calculations, at once to audit, endorse, and pay all bills according to the terms of the publisher with whom he is brought in business contact. We refer merchants and manufacturers in New York to Mr. Richardson for their terms, condition, &c., and assure them that all contracts with him for advertising in the Democrat will receive prompt attention.

—We call the attention of our readers this morning to the advertisement of the dissolution of the firm of Glover, Ainslie & Cochran, and the partnership entered into between Messrs. Geo. Ainslie and A. T. Cochran, under the firm of Ainslie & Cochran. These gentlemen have large experience in the foundry business, and will continue it at the southeast corner of Main and Fourth streets, where they are now erecting suitable buildings.

Mr. W. E. Glover, having purchased the interest of Messrs. Ainslie & Cochran in the Foster Foundry, and associated with him Messrs. John L. Hikes and Clas. Glover, will continue the business at the old stand in Main street, between Ninth and Tenth. The style of this firm is Glover & Co., to whose card we invite attention. They are enlarging and extending their establishment, and making it one of the largest in the country. Our readers in need of engines and machinery will bear them in mind.

VILLAINOUS ROBBERY.—The confectionary and beer-house of a worthy German, Mr. Henry Bartholomew, in Marshall street, between Hancock and Clay, was entered by burglars on Tuesday night, and robbed of $40 in money and a gold watch valued at $100. The thieves spent the evening with the proprietor, drinking beer freely with him, and gained his confidence so far as to ascertain the whereabouts of his treasures. Mr. B. suspects, also, that one of the three composing the party which robbed him, remained secret in the house after it was closed for the night. The thieves are known, but they doubtless left the city yesterday morning. This is a serious loss to a worthy citizen; and the watch was prized highly by his lady, as it was a remembrance from California, presented to Mrs. B. upon her husband's return after a long absence in the gold region.

GALLERY OF ART.—It will be seen by the notice in our column this morning, that our enterprising young friend, Geo. T. Shaw, some years engaged in the business, and an excellent operator, has gone into partnership with Mr. J. A. Sheldon, in the Daguerreotype and Ambrotype business, at Sheldon's old stand, between Second and Third, who is the acting agent for those localities. Come, Mr. Inspector, do your duty to the whole people.

The New Albany and Salem Railroad. Those who are in habit of traveling upon railroads know the necessity of having some kind of a guarantee whereby they can travel with comfort, speed, and safety. Aside from interested motives, let me say to those who design making a trip to St. Louis or Chicago, travel by all means upon the N. A. & S. R. in the first place procure your tickets from E. O. Norton, south side of Main street, between Second and Third, who is the acting agent for those localities. Come, Mr. Inspector, do your duty to the whole people.

FAITH.—We hope there may be some mistake in this statement; but if not, will agree that this Judge is no better than a Mormon." The Plaineader says:

"At the time he received his appointment of Chief Justice, he was a resident of this town. He left his wife and family here to go to Utah, and by the time he had reached the Missouri River, according to a correspondent of the New York Tribune, who appears to have been traveling on the same boat, "Judge" Drummond was accompanied by his beautiful and accomplished lady." The press in this place well knew his fidelity, but out of regard to the feelings of his family, remained silent. After Drummond's resignation and return to the States, he seemed to have given up all hope of ever returning to his old home. When he had bravely offered, by repeating the same in writing, to return to his old home, he brought the Goshen Gingham goods, and a young man, and a son-in-law of Johnson, Berney, who will represent the Fall River interest; and will be a welcome addition to the firm in the house of J. H. How & Co. We have been more particular in giving these details, because there is no one in this city who will be more likely to be interested in the frequent reference to the contemplated change."

BEER IN PHILADELPHIA.—At a recent meeting of the butchers and drivers of Philadelphia, a prominent butcher had the following exposed of some of the rascality practised upon them by speculators:
